To God Be the Glory

Words: Fanny J. Crosby (1875) · Music: William H. Doane

Public domain: the original words and tune of this hymn are in the public domain in the United States. This reimagined version, with new lyrics and arrangement, is by Hymn & Hallelujah. Made with human direction and AI assistance.

VERSE 1

Look at the morning, look at the sky
Another day, another reason why
I can lift my hands and sing
About the joy that Your love brings
I've seen the mountains, I've walked the rain
I've had my share of joy and pain
But through it all, one thing is true
Every road has led me back to You

PRE-CHORUS

And I could count a thousand blessings
Still have a thousand more to name
Every heartbeat tells the story
Of a love that never changed

CHORUS

To God be the glory
Let the whole world sing
Every heart, every voice
Lift your praise to the King
For the wonders You have done
For the victory You've won
From the mountains to the sea
Let Your glory shine through me

VERSE 2

Some days I'm running, some days I'm slow
Some days I wonder which way to go
Got a million little worries
Trying to steal away my story
But then I stop, take a look, take a look around
See Your goodness everywhere I found
And the little things, the big surprises
Every sunrise, every new horizon

PRE-CHORUS

And I could count a thousand blessings
Still have a thousand more to name
Every heartbeat tells a story
Of a love that never changed

CHORUS (repeat)

BRIDGE

For the hope that keeps me going
For the grace that makes me new
For the love that never leaves me
All the glory goes to You

BUILD

Who gets the glory?
You do, Lord
Who gets the praise?
Forevermore
Every generation
Every nation
Lift Your name in celebration

FINAL CHORUS

To God be the glory
To God be the glory
Let the whole world sing
Let the whole world sing
Every heart, every voice
Every heart, everybody
Lift your praise to the King
For the wonders You have done
For the victory You've won
From the mountains to the sea
Let Your glory shine through me

FINAL REFRAIN

To God be the glory
To God be the praise
Every heart, every nation
Sing Your name through all our days